Event Description: Alaska can and should be a world leader in developing more affordable, stable, and environmentally sustainable methods of energy production and employing energy efficiency to maximize our use of energy. The Business of Clean Energy in Alaska conference provides a platform to learn about the economic opportunities around renewable energy and energy efficiency development, and to catalyze the growth of the clean energy economy in Alaska. This year's 6th annual conference brings together research, project developer, business, civic and government leaders from around the state, nation and the world in a strategic and educational forum to share information and ideas for moving Alaska toward a sustainable energy future. The conference is structured as a two-day event with moderated panels on a selection of relevant energy topics, Alaska project updates, and featuring two influential keynote speakers. It also features an exhibitor hall, which is open to the public.

Exhibitor Benefits: In addition to 50% off conference registration for Exhibitors, this year we have added additional exhibit hall time to the conference agenda both days, we are offering discounted rates to attend the panels and keynote presentations, as well as creating incentives for all attendees to visit each exhibitor booth throughout the course of the two-day conference.
